

Relocating Just Got EASIER

If you're considering an out-of-area move this year, I want to make sure you work with an excellent real estate professional who will take great care of you in your new town!

14-23 million people plan to relocate as remote work opportunities increase.¹

20.6% of people are planning to leave major cities during their move.¹

54.7% of those making a move are looking two or more hours away.¹

Need a Referral to a Great Real Estate Agent?

If you're planning an out-of-area move, no need to rely on strangers for your real estate needs! I belong to a vast network of real estate agents and can connect you with a trusted, experienced real estate professional.

Powerful

One out of every eight homes in the United States is sold by an agent in my network.²

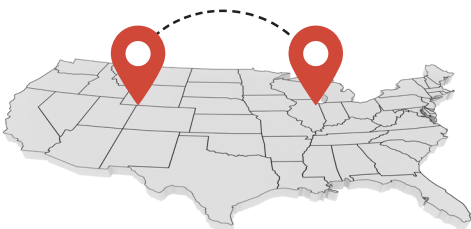

Trusted

These agents offer the same level of service that I do, so you know you're in good hands.

Stress-Free

You can check "find an agent" off your busy moving checklist— I'll take care of it!

Moving away? Call me, and I'll be happy to tap into this expansive professional network to find a great agent in your future hometown!

A Referral You Can TRUST

Professionals in my Referral Network bring you peace-of-mind during a busy time. You can trust them to deliver the same high level of customer service that I provide!

The Best of the Best

You can trust your agent to:

- 📍 Deliver a smooth, enjoyable customer experience.
- 📍 Provide world-class service, expert negotiations and effective communication.
- 📍 Be your trusted advisor before, during and after the transaction.
- 📍 Work off a proven track record that gets you results.

The Work by Referral Promise

As agents who work by referral, we do not take our clients' business for granted. We will serve you at the highest level to earn your repeat and referral business and consistently provide you with value long after the sale.
